Mrs. Ray Linn is reported much improved at her home, though still confined to her bed. She has been ill for about two weeks with an attack of pneumonia.

The balance of the savings resulted from the removal of developmental charges for the bills to commercial and industrial consumers, served by three distributors, as follows: Hontville, Alabama, $61,000; West Point, Mississippi, $20,000; and North Carolina Electric Membership Corporation, $10,000. The savings from the removal of the charge for the purchase of power (3 percent to five percent), $30,000.

It is estimated that during the past year the 100,000 customers served by the three distributors purchased power paid about $100,000 less than they would have paid had they purchased the same amount of power at the rates prevailing in the United States generally throughout the year. The savings to the three distributors in the purchase of power, resulting from the removal of the charge for power, reductions in rates paid by other systems are expected to be $100,000.

Kentucky Ranks High In Child Welfare Work

Kentucky might rank as the most progressive state in the nation in child welfare services and "certainly will rank very close to the top," Louise Noble, regional director of the Children's Bureau, Federal Security Agency, told Kentucky delegates to the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth, Washington, D. C., December 3-7.

Commenting on Economic Security Commissioner Vego E. Barnes' statement of November 22 that child welfare services would be expanded within the next 60 days to include every county in Kentucky, Miss Noble declared that if these plans are realized, "Kentucky easily will rank the top half-dozen states in advancement." Barnes' statement pointed out that the expansion was a result of increased appropriations from the Kentucky General Assembly, much larger federal grants and more liberal contributions from the counties.

JOHN COLLINS reports 33 young lambs, "I thought they would be here ahead of bad weather but seems like this is the middle of winter."

While we are on the weather it seems like we have some kind of weather every day.

ROBERT EDWARDS had bad luck with his brood sows. "I had 33 pigs born during the cold weather and lost 27 of them. I had good houses but I guess they should have been heated."

GALEN HIETT says, "I intend to bring my hog house close enough to the house to run electricity to them. I will use light bulbs in the house to warm it."

C. E. POWELL harvested 840 bushels of corn from 10 acres, "I had the field in corn in 1939 and it made about 12 bushels per acre. It had been in pasture since then. The field has been limed twice. I used 200 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre at planting time and side dressed it with 200 pounds more of fertilizer and 100 pounds of ammonia nitrate."

CARMON GORDEN sold some of his burley at $65 per hundred.

THE HARDIN HOMEMAKERS CLUB will broadcast over station WKYB, December 23 at 11:00 a. m. Their subject, "Over Meals."

Around The Square

We should now stop saying that our government is not an efficiently operated organization.

There has not been, for some time, enough prime beef to meet the demand, so our Department of Agriculture solved the problem in a few easy moments—they just designated more of each cow as prime and less of it as just good—and that, dear taxpayer, is some efficiency. Of course our efficient senate has investigated this "easy method of producing more prime beef," but at last report had made no announcement of their findings—could be that the dear senate investigators are just as confused as we are.

Just heard Homer Miller in the Bank of Marshall County asking Clois Holmes if he would like to see a Truman nickel, when Clois said yes Homer pulled out a dollar bill and let him see it.

Ever see a possum up a Christmas Tree? The first tree that was put up on the court square Friday as part of the Christmas decoration had one, J. L. Vaughn put one in the tree after it was up and the young fellow just acted like he belonged there.

The plaque won by W. L. Frazier as Master Pastureman of Marshall County is on display at the Bank of Marshall County, it is a nice award to earn and he was pushed strongly for top honors by Hatler Morgan and Charlie Cone.

This will interest all those boys who have trouble with their report cards—Sir Asaac Newton, father of the theory of relatively, was considered a poor student when a young boy.

The state fire marshal warns that the Evergreen tree is one of the most flammable objects known, be exceptionally careful during the holiday season so that you and your family will still be amongst the living to start the New Year.

Speaking of signs—There is one on the wall at Flatt's Cafe, formerly Bill Butler's, that shows a man eating one of their meals and over the picture it says "Eat Here," another picture shows an undernourished guy and over this one are the words "Diet at home."

Second childhood or something has hit Rip Fiser; he seems to be cutting his fourth set of teeth. After cutting his baby teeth, he cut his regular teeth like other people, then when he lost them he sprouted a set of "store bought" teeth now has cut a tooth under his plate and his friends wonder if that means he is starting another new set.

PREVENT FIRES

Can You Read? Do You?

Well, do you? In this day and time directions are printed on most packages we buy. Read what it says. Then follow instructions.

Articles in magazines and newspapers suggest we do certain things each month. Why not try some of these things for a change?

For example, be sure your Christmas tree is fire proofed. At least, put the tree in a flower pot or bucket of sand and keep it watered. It may take a land can for a large tree. Be sure to turn off Christmas tree lights when you are to be gone from home or from the room several hours.

A Christmas Wreath at your front door gives a warm welcome to those who enter as well as a "hello" to those who pass by.

Home grown cedar can be used to make a wreath. The 4-H club members have been wiring the cedar on a coat hanger, then decorating with colored Christmas bulbs or painted seed pods. Sweet gum balls and sycamore balls painted with aluminum paint are fine for Christmas decorations.

For that exchange gift at a Christmas meeting, why not wrap up a silver-tipped light bulb or a yellow bulb or a plastic shade for a hanging light? Silver tipped bulbs can be used over work benches, ironing boards or in the kitchen.

In planning menus for Christmas use plenty of fruit.

Low shelves and cupboards, easy for children to reach, make a special storage place for toys. Santa Claus will bring.

Aside from the convenience and pleasure to the child of having his own place to keep his own playthings, such cupboards help keep the house orderly and may prevent accidents. Roller skates parked on door steps, blocks on the living room floor, and other toys underfoot have caused many a fall.

Did you get a cook book with that new electric range? Does it have a special storage place in your kitchen? Then get it out and select an oven meal and try it. You owe it to the family and yourself to try one new recipe each week. Add variety to your meals.

The health and future well-being of all members of the family depend to a great extent on wise selection of the food supply.

Market conditions, supplies, prices and quality are all constantly changing; and a wise choice today may be a poor one tomorrow. For example, with eggs a nickel a piece, you may need to find a fruit cake recipe without eggs. Change the dessert from soft custard or egg nog to fruit cup or ambrosia. Ambrosia is made of orange and coconut, you might like to add pineapple.

all these sad and melancholy moments, the cold wintry winds were playing a sad requiem as they mournfully sighed through the naked boughs of the trees which stood like sentinels over the sad and lonely spot, where our father, grand-father and other kindred lie sleeping in their cold and silent graves. We repaired to the tomb of our father, who died and left us homeless and penniless to the cold mercy of an unkind world. We read the epitaphs on the tomb rock, which marks the spot of his last resting place on earth, which we assisted in selecting which reads as follows: "Farewell my wife and children all,

There's another, not a father in happy days gone by, you would have known her by the eye," whose ashes lie sleeping in a beautiful cemetery at Perryville, near Soldier Creek. We next turned our spirited steed

Mourn not for me, for 'tis in vain.

To call me to your feet again.

We knelt down upon his grave and softly whispered there, "Father here's thy earthly child and gently dropped a tear. Rising to our feet we retraced our steps to the big iron gates of the cemetery where we dismounted and resumed our journey for the day filled with sad and solemn thoughts of the long ago.

"There's another, not a father in happy days gone by, you would have known her by the eye," whose ashes lie sleeping in a beautiful cemetery at Perryville, near Soldier Creek. We next turned our spirited steed toward this lonely spot, where we would like to spend eternity were we permitted to do so. Arriving there, we dismounted, dropped the bridle rein on the ground and left "Dad" to take care of himself, while with uncovered head we approached her grave and read the epitaph on the tomb rock, that marks the spot, where one of earth's fairest lies sweetly sleeping alone—the sleep that knows no waking. Her grave was covered with ivy and honeysuckle, while a canopy of cedars, almost as large as the cedars of Lebanon formed a covering overhead, which shelters the sacred shrine, from the chilling blasts of winter's rigors and the burning rays of the summer sun. Nearby her grave, in the cemetery grounds, stands a dogwood tree—or rather a bush—where thirty years before, on a beautiful, balmy April Sabbath afternoon we stood side-by-side, in the merriest of moods, on earth. At her request, we had climbed the tree and gathered an armful of the snow-white blossoms just for her sake. After gathering these wild flowers—emblematic of purity—we descended to the ground and hastily took our stand at her right hand where we gazed into the depths of her sparkling brown eyes—"eyes which spoke love to eyes which spoke again," and with our own good right hand we smoothed from her fair young brow those tumbled curls that clustered about her forehead, at the same time planting the unmistakable kiss of love on her lips. And till this good day, her kiss of affection still burns on our lips when she told us how true she would be.

Existing enlistment regulations have been modified recently by the Navy Department, so that candidates with one dependent may enlist as Seaman Recruit and Seaman Apprentice. For men enlisting or reenlisting in higher ratings, there is no restriction on the number of dependents. This automatically entitles men enlisting in the Navy now, a dependent's allowance ranging from $45.00 to $85.00 additional pay per month.

Old requirements forbade enlistments in grades below petty officer if the candidates had any dependents.

For further information, contact your Navy Recruiter, located in the Post Office Building, Paducah, Kentucky. Office hours are from eight a. m. to four p. m. Monday through Friday, Saturday eight a. m. to twelve noon.

EARLY MAILING DURING RUSH IS ASK BY P. O.

C. B. Cox, Benton postmaster, today issued a reminder to patrons of the Post Office that unusually heavy mails are expected during the current Christmas season.

He stressed the point that the staff of the local office will greatly appreciate patrons following the suggestions listed below, they will help a great deal in handling of the mail and will expedite service during the exceptionally heavy rush period:

1. Remember all Christmas cards, unsealed, require 2 cents postage. The post office will forward and return cards paid at the letter rate of 2 cents each.
2. Please buy your stamps in advance and have all letters stamped. Please do not ask carrier to wait for you to stamp your mail. He has a schedule to make and he cannot wait for you to stamp your letters.
3. Mail early to insure delivery by Christmas.

By Reba Lee Johnston

Back again, after so long. How does this find everyone? We, around here, are doing pretty good.

The weather man just can't keep his mind made up. Over the week end we had nice warm weather, now it is turning cold or by the name. Well, it won't be long until Christmas will be here. And old Santa Claus will come and bring all those toys and nice things and make all the little kids happy.

I remember when I was a kid Christmas was about the dearest time of the year to me. But I guess kids haven't changed so much since I was one. I think they are still proud to see Christmas come.

Would like to send get well wishes to the following: Mrs. Lennie Johnston, Mr. John Crit Story, Mrs. Mary Johnston, Mrs. Lizzie Bradley, Johnny Johnson, Mrs. John Johnston, Mrs. Ola Johnston, Mrs. Lizzie Poe and also to each of you who are sick whom I didn't mention. Hope each of you are well real soon!

Mr. and Mrs. Acie Johnston gave a singing Saturday night, December 2, at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blikie and sons, Arthur and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus A. Cross and son, Donnie, Mrs. Annie Dawes, Mrs. Beulah Johnston, Ollie Johnston, Johnny Dawes, Travis Dawes, Tom Clark, Mrs. Mildred Johnston, Miss Betty Jane Barker, also Mr. and Mrs. Acie Johnston and daughter, Reba Lee. Had a real nice time too.

Johnny Dawes, Tom Clark, Storge Grigg and Coleman Clark visited Harold Wayne Griggs and Mr. Dillard Clark, who is now in the U. S. Army at Camp Breckenridge. Best wishes always, boys. The game was at the store again Sunday for a big time. A real likeable boy in our community is Tom Clark. A likeable girl, Dorothy Norvell, Dorothy visited Reba Lee Johnston, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Albie Johnston and daughter, Mildred, visited Mr. and Mrs. Barefield and daughter, Wanda. Mr. and Mrs. Edd Newman Harver visited Mr. and Mrs. Harman Davis Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Odis W. Cross visited Mr. and Mrs. L. Cross, Sunday.

Guess this is it, look for the Griggstown News next week, just a bit of news from our community.

Soil Conservation Notes

By Herbert Anderson

"I like the shape that my land is in now," declared W. L. Frazier as we sat in the large living room of this new home. The snow had just driven him in from the fields when I arrived at his farm three miles south of Gilbertsville on the Access Road.

"Very little of it is washing away," he continued. "Terraces, diversion ditches, sod waterways, and good pastures are the main conservation treatments I have applied to nail down the soil."

In 1946 when the Marshall County Soil Conservation District was voted in by the people, he requested help from the supervisors in making a complete soil and water conservation farm plan on thirty-four acres. From 1947 to 1949 a one-acre waterway, two miles of terraces, a 500 foot diversion, nineteen acres of contour farming, and thirty acres of pasture seeding were applied.

Seventy more acres were added in 1948 and the next year I helped him amend the first plan to include these acres. From 1948 to 1950 two acres of sod waterways, 10000 feet of diversion ditches, thirty-nine acres of contour farming, fifty-six acres of pasture seeding, and 3000 feet of open drainage ditches were applied to this additional land.

Thirty acres of the 104 is bottom land joining Stice Creek. This wet land is now covered with Ky. 31 Fescue and Ladino clover which will stand more excess water and produce more feed than the corn crops were doing in the past.

From the land capability map of his farm, prepared by the SCS Soil Scientist, he saw that most of his land was better suited for pasture than any other crop. Therefore, pasture is being developed on the nine farm except for a little burley patch and seven acres of woodland managed for fuel. He plans to complete his conservation work next year by building a farm pond and seeding the nine acres not yet in pasture.

"I will be able to slow down a little when I get this done," says this hard working farmer. "With very little labor I can keep my farm in shape by top-dressing with fertilizer and clipping."

Starting with six black Angus heifers three years ago, he now has twenty-two. His registered herd, Registered Spotted Poland China hogs are also raised.

Leaning back in his chair and with a broad smile, he said, "Some of my neighbors are feeding their stock every day. All I have fed my cattle so far this winter was a little hay the other day when the snow came and those black rascals are still as round as mules."

"Since you bought this land started farming the conservation way, how much has its value increased?" I asked.

"The land alone, not counting the new buildings, has doubled in value," he replied.

A living fence of multiflora rose was set last year. Rose plants were produced by the SCS Nursery at Paducah, and given to him by the Marshall District.

Frazier has been a TVA demonstrator for several years and a farm bureau director and secretary for the past two years. He learns the latest information on livestock and farm management problems from the Extension Service and by attending Ray Hall's Adult Farmer Class at Calvert City.

Frazier and his son, Clarence, who is no win the Army Air Force, operated a district owned bulldozer for awhile in 1948. Sumps were pushed out and gullies filled in the natural draws of his own fields. Grass is now growing where these gullies used to grow.

Bending over and pointing to his boots, Frazier said, "I have gone several times to the sod waterways in my back field and waded half knee deep in water clear enough to drink after a heavy rain."

Using his tractor and a district owned terracing plow, he built his own terraces, diversions, and drainage ditches with the help of SCS technicians working for the Marshall District. Interested in seeing soil conservation work done on other farms in the county, he and Clarence did custom work one year building terraces for other farmers.

By sound thinking, planning to farm the conservation way, and hard work of the entire family he was recognized as Master Pastureman of Marshall County for 1950.

Ribbon Cutting At Ky. Dam Bridge Is Cancelled Saturday

The ribbon cutting ceremony for the opening of the new bridge across Kentucky Dam was postponed indefinitely due to bad weather, Saturday.

Plans had called for Governor Lawrence Wetherby to officiate at the ceremonies after which a dinner meeting was to have been held at the cafeteria at the state park. However, the actual opening of the bridge also had to be postponed because inclement weather had slowed workmen and the finishing touches had not yet been put on the span.

Dedication services will not be held this winter at all, officials announced, though they may be held some time in the future even though the bridge will be opened within a few days if weather permits.

With the opening of the bridge will come the closing of the service of the Gilbertsville Ferry which has operated just a few hundred yards below Kentucky Dam in the Tennessee River.

HE SAYS HE HAS A FRIEND, OKAY!

Fair Dealing: Gilbertsville

By Mrs. Bert Nelson

In loving memory of my father, who passed away the 10th of last December. Dearest Dad left us one year ago. Oh, how we miss his bright smile and cherry words of greeting. We long to hear your voice again. So dear, and feel your gentle hand. That guided us down life's way. We know you're happy with the loved ones gone before. But there'll always be an empty place in our lives, that no one else can fill. Till some glad morn we'll meet you on that bright shore.

Was glad to learn that Janette Darnall was getting along all right after undergoing an operation at Riverside Hospital last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown of Paducah were Saturday evening callers of their uncle Sam Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Wright Brown Mr. and Mrs. Halie Nelson and Homer Gene Holt were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nelson.

Thomas and Lounell Nelson were super guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henson Saturday.

WMS Of New Zion Baptist Church Met Tuesday Night

The WMS of New Zion Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. John H. York, Tuesday night, November 28, studying "Royal Service".

The program started by the singing of "The great physician". In the absence of Mrs. R. B. Cope, Mrs. York gave the devotional "Go, Heal", followed by a prayer by Mrs. Cratus.

York. The program topic was, "Is there a Doctor in the house?" Those present were Mrs. Ted Parker, Mrs. Cleo Phillips, Mrs. Lona Thweatt, Mrs. Mary Lamb and Mrs. John H. York.

After a program and social hour, refreshments were served. The ladies of the church met and quilted two quilts for each of our Baptist Orphans' Homes.

Murray State Rumps Tigers Sat. Dec. 9

The Murray State Thoroughbreds added their third victory Saturday night, Dec. 9, by defeating McCoy Terry's Memphis Staters at Memphis, 71 to 51. The powerful Racehorses romped over the Tigers after the first ten minutes of play. The Breeds were never headed after that first 10 minutes of play when they went ahead 18-16. Gene Garrett racked up 16 points and fouled out with six minutes to play. However he was forced to share scoring honors with the "mighty Mite" Benny Purcell who also got 16 markers. Purcell was the spark plug and play maker of the contest. Garrett's Bear came through with 10 markers and was looking more like the Bearhears that turned in such a sparkling performance last year for the Racehorses. The tilt which is often considered a rough match between the two schools was marked by 29 fouls against Memphis State and 17 against the Thoroughbreds. Players were often sprawling into a heaply crowd jammed along the sidelines. The two coaches' benches got heated up at halftime. Tiger Coach McCoy Terry showed Harlan Hodges three times during a dispute over an official ruling. However, Terry apologized quickly and they parted. The Racers, the visiting team, were dressed in blue. When the Tigers appeared on the hardwood, the host team, they were dressed in blue and white uniforms. Coach Harlan Hodges protested. The officials agreed with the Racers coach and said that he could protest and be within his rights if he did not play the Memphis team did not have any game. Coach Terry claimed the white pants. The rhubarb came up again at the halftime. Macon Cope only played the later minutes of the tilt.

The high school chemistry teacher noticed that one of his students was dozing. "What does HNO<sub>3</sub> signify, Johnson?" he asked suddenly. Johnson stammered. "Ah, er... I've got it on the tip of my tongue, but—"

Remember how we used to "wait up" for Santa! Why, Christmas Eve was the longest night of the year. We couldn't go to sleep for the excitement of anticipation. And when we tried to stay awake, then we always would fall asleep. But in the morning it was CHRISTMAS! The long, long night was over! There was a long, long night before that first Christmas in Bethlehem... Through centuries of restless yearning the world waited for God's Greatest Gift. Then in a lowly manger a mother laid her child. And shepherds came to gaze in rapture. And Wise Men from a far-off land brought kingly gifts. It was CHRISTMAS! The long, long night was over! Come joyously to the church you love best and worship this new-born King. He is God's Greatest Gift.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This newspaper grew in a forest

Until it was discovered that paper could be made from wood, there were no great daily papers as we know them today. Today, trees flow in a continuous stream from forest to pulp and paper mill, to roaring presses, to you. And because trees grow—our forests are one great natural resource that can be replaced—Americans can always enjoy their favorite newspapers.

Today, America's woodland owners are learning about "good forest management". On areas called "tree farms", we are growing—like other crops—trees for tomorrow.

Everyone has a share in our forest future, and a share of responsibility, too. It takes all of us to keep our forests safe from fire. Talk—think—act to KEEP AMERICA GREEN.

A man was one day hunting in a forest. He came up. He looked about for shelter. It began to rain in torrents, so he crawled into a hollow log. It fitted snugly. The rain lasted for hours. The water soaked the wood. The log began to contract. When the hunter came over the hunter could not get out. He strained to free himself with all his might. He held tight. Like a drowning man, his life flashed before his eyes. He suddenly remembered a promise an agent's policy, there being life then. He realized that his wife and children would starve. This made him feel so able to crawl out of the log without difficulty.

Hello everybody, one of these days real soon I want to do my Christmas shopping.
I want to exchange selfishness which I picked up the other day for some humility which is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look for some tolerance and good cheer for my friend husband which he always needs. I have seen some pretty samples of peace, and I want a generous supply of it, although I know the price is high.
For my boys I want to get a big package of appreciation, and try to learn to use it myself while teaching them. We all need everyday goodness, it is not expensive, and our supply runs out so quickly. For Grand-dad it will be a big sack of good health, the kind that has less aches and pains, for he deserves
it. I might try on that garment of long suffering for I find my-the real Christ Child may we let it reign and rule and guide our footsteps on the right path.

As the bright star of the east-

Health Unit News

The duties of the county health unit sanitarian are many and his program changes to meet the needs of the particular county to which he is assigned. Some of his specific duties include his work in connection with adequate sewage disposal, safe water and milk supplies, rodent and insect control and the inspection of camps and swimming pools. Generally speaking, the county sanitarian plans with officials of communities and with individuals for the solution of all the problems of environmental sanitation. In connection with his work he collects samples for laboratory investigation, such as from the public water supply, milk as sold in the country, school water supplies, etc. Another important phase of his work in the field of environmental sanitation is that of school and public building inspection. Waste disposal, whether from individual homes or a community, constitutes an additional problem for the county sanitarian in his work of preventing disease spread by insects and rats. Inspection of the restaurants in your town, to insure proper refrigeration and adequate dish washing, is still another phase of the sanitarian's job and the sanitation rating sign of "A" on such a place is his report to you. Your sanitarian in Marshall County Health Unit will be glad to help you solve your community and individual sanitation problems.

KENTUCKY JUNIOR VEGETABLE GROWERS TAKE FOUR NATIONAL CONTEST AWARDS

KENTUCKY junior vegetable growers were named winners of four state awards in the 1958 production-marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association at the NJVGA concluded its sixteenth annual four-day convention at New Orleans, La., today.

State-wide honors went to James R. Bentley, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bentley, Louisville; Katherine Conder, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Conder, Harrodsburg; and Ernest W. Bonzo, 14, son of Mr. Ernest R. Bonzo, Sr., Greenup. Each received cash awards from the $6,000 scholarship fund provided each year by A & P Food Stores to encourage better production and marketing of vegetables by farm youth.

Also announced by John S. Gardner, College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky at Lexington, and state NJVGA leader, was the awarding of the national championship and the top $500 scholarship to James L. McBee, 19-year-old grower of Phillips, West Virginia.

Jim Bentley's garden measured approximately one-eighth of an acre, and contained onions, carrots, radishes and tomatoes. He explained that because of the small size of his project, he found it best to harvest each vegetable as it was needed, going according to size. A 10th grade student who is 85% in his studies, he has been a 4-H president and treasurer. Dick Metzger farmed two acres of kale and cabbage and reaped a harvest that paid $525. About $360 of this was net profit, plus $60 for his own labor, with a total of 240 hours spent on the project. He sold most of his crops to wholesale houses and local A & P stores. Dick averages 30 in his school grades and was a 4-H president in 1957. He is also a member of the FFA, and a Boy Scout.

Emma Conder, 17, a high school senior, had a plot .125 by 140 feet planted to mixed vegetables, and another plot 175 by 40 feet with potatoes in it. The harvest yielded a gross revenue of $571, of which $485 was net profit after paying herself $26.40 for labor. She marketed her vegetables along with those of her father, through his facilities. Emma has been a 4-H club president for three years; district garden champion, as well as holding other important posts, and has a long list of impressive prizes taken at local fairs for her gardening and canning.

Ernest Bonzo grew $125 worth of vegetables on one-quarter of an acre limiting his crops to tomatoes, onions, and potatoes. He realized a net profit of $89 on just 35 hours of work, for which he computed the additional gain of $17.50 in wages. A member of 4-H for four years, this is his first garden project.

Cherry Grove:

By Effie Bowden

The year is about gone although we have a birthday and then there is Christmas, and yes, we have five Sundays in December, but after all, the time is about up.

I enjoy thinking of the pleasant things of the year, and shake and quake at the hard to bear problems, this scribe has had plenty of both, not dreading the atom bomb, nor do I care how many A-bombs plants are planted near by. They'll guide and guard them so once, just before the bus was to sail right down the streets of Oak Ridge, I just Marshall Green of Route 6 for home of the Atom Bomb. I kept asking about the danger of the atom bomb, feeling sure some guy might have dropped a small atom from his vest pocket.

'sompin' carelessly. After many and Mrs. Nolan Wyatt out by inquired about bus driver says, which is now rumored.

We hope to have all the progressiveness and special benefits come near us, to improve our county and towns, we note with interest the improvement of our roads, building and broadening this year, yet, we still have in our county, a few bridges too narrow, roads gradable just enough for one car, no place wide enough to pass another car. That's horse and buggy days lanes, eh. We don't have many horses and buggies now, although Uncle W. M. Ford tells me he still drives the horse to a buggy, he gets sick riding in a car, if its much of a lengthy trip, yes, he states, I drove from my home near Oak Level to the home of S. J. Rudd on Route 3 not many days ago to visit but most of the day I was driving.

We see this year that there is not a school at the old Vaughn Chapel School, they have 'closed out' that old district, and the children are hauled away by bus to Sharpe, more progressiveness, this old school house was near Possum Trot, the older people around Possum Trot will remember always their teachers, their school mates, and this center of interest for all the homes around, this scribe has been where Vaughn Chapel is — where is Oak Valley?

VFW Has Service Officer To Help Local Veterans

Each local Post maintains a Welfare and Service Officer. It is his responsibility to help disabled and needy veterans in every practical way possible. His advice and assistance are available to all veterans with regard to employment, hospitalization, government claims, veterans preference on work projects, etc.

The National Rehabilitation Service provides aid to veterans and their dependents in matters having to do with claims for pensions and compensation, government insurance, hospitalization, burial allowances, etc., before the Veterans Administration. When "power of attorney" is granted by a veteran, the V. F. W. is given access to the official records of the Veterans Administration for a detailed study of the claim involved.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors blood, bone and skin banks. Victims of fire, flood or other disasters have received new homes, clothing and food through V. F. W. efforts.

Calvert City School News

By Bobbie Jean Freeman

The F. H. A. (Future Homemakers of America) is an organization for girls who have been, or are enrolled in Home Economics.

In order to understand what the F. H. A. is and their work, you must first understand the entire Home Ec. program. There are seven different areas or phases of Home Economics. They are, clothing, foods, housing, management, child care and training, relationship and health and home care of the sick.

At Calvert City, we have only a two year Home Economics program, therefore it is up to our instructor to teach us these seven areas in only a fraction of the time which should be spent on them, and it up to us to learn what is taught us. The first year we cover all seven areas in a general manner. Then the second year we go more into detail of each, spending the amount of time we feel necessary for each. These seven areas of Home Ec. cover all the practical needs of the average homemaker.

All girls will be homemakers of some kind, whether we become a housewife with a whole house to manage or a career woman with only an apartment or one room.

The F. H. A. organization helps us to realize the need for knowledge in Home Economics and helps us to appreciate the joys of all the housekeeping activities to being a homemaker. There are four degrees of achievement in F. H. A. which a member earns through contributions to her home, such as improving the relationship between the members of her family, managing the family budgeting or a thousand and one other home-making activities. Girls who really are "Future Homemakers of America" because they are gaining know-how everyday which will be very useful to them later on.

The Home Ec. program does not stop with high school graduation. From time to time the Home Ec. teacher also teaches adult classes on different phases of Home Economics.

more and more thoughtful people are making this a practical Xmas

The real spirit of Christmas is not based on exchanging expensive gadgets of little or no actual use. Rather, it is based on the honest value of the simple gifts we all like to exchange with friends, relatives, neighbors. So, this Christmas why not follow the trend already started by other sensible, practical people... by keeping AT LEAST PART of your gifts on the PRACTICAL SIDE of giving.

For example, Happy Jack dungarees for men and boys, and Happy Jill dungarees for women and girls represent sensible gift giving at its best... because these fine garments just can't be beat for comfort, fit, long wear, and value.

Happy Jack and Happy Jill dungarees are made for those who appreciate fine quality clothes for work and play. You can get Happy Jack and Happy Jill dungarees at the local stores listed here.

New Auto Plates At Co

Clerk's Office

May Be Bought Anytime Up To March 1, 1951

The 1951 motor vehicle license plates are now on sale at the county clerk's office. Mark your calendar for the new plates announced today.

The new plates may be purchased at any time up to and including March 1. However, Clayton urged vehicle owners to purchase their license plates as soon as possible. There is nearly a rush the last few days of the year, which causes delay and inconvenience to all who wait until then to buy.

New plates may not be purchased until December 29. After that date it is illegal to operate a vehicle without a new license plate. A license plate is provided to be attached to the rear of each vehicle. The colors are black on silver background.

The slogan "Tour Kentucky" is intended to help promote the state as a tourist center.

The County Clerk requests you bring your 1950 registration certificate when you register your license.

Magistrates Vote to Control Fire

Calvert City, Ky. - Magistrates of the Marshall County fiscal court voted the proposal of fire protection in the county for timber.

The vote was three against two abstaining. The proposal would have imposed a tax of two cents per acre of timberland and the major cost of the program being met by the agency.

In other words it was a vote out, a farmer with ten acres of land in timber would pay twenty cents per acre.

The watch towers would be built throughout the county and full time fire wardens employed. Another opportunity for this program may be offered Marshall County at a later date, though this was not announced.

F. Roberts, Benton Route 1, has been hospitalized recently and is now at home and is expected to be resting comfortably.
